

Answer Key

Correct Answers Are Highlighted

1. Fentanyl is the number one cause of death in the United States for ages 18 to 45.
☐ Definitely Not True
☐ Not True
☐ I Don't Know
☐ True
☒ Definitely True
2. Fentanyl is a synthetic drug that is 50 to 100 times more powerful than morphine.
☐ Definitely Not True
☐ Not True
☐ I Don't Know
☐ True
☒ Definitely True
3. If someone other than a licensed medical professional hands you a pill, it is safe to take as long as you inspect it very carefully:
☒ Definitely Not True
☐ Not True
☐ I Don't Know
☐ True
☐ Definitely True
4. You can die from ingesting even small amounts of fentanyl (for example: the size of a sesame seed):
☐ Definitely Not True
☐ Not True
☐ I Don't Know
☐ True
☒ Definitely True
5. With enough practice, you can usually tell which drugs have fentanyl added to them:
☒ Definitely Not True
☐ Not True
☐ I Don't Know
☐ True
☐ Definitely True
6. The following are all common signs of a fentanyl/opioid overdose: clammy skin, bluish color around the lips and fingernails, limp body, can't be awakened or can't speak, vomiting or gurgling noises, breathing is very slow and shallow, heart and breathing have stopped:
☐ Definitely Not True
☐ Not True
☐ I Don't Know
☐ True
☒ Definitely True
7. If someone is experiencing an opioid/ fentanyl overdose you should put them in the shower, run cold water, and wait for them to recover:
☒ Definitely Not True
☐ Not True
☐ I Don't Know
☐ True
☐ Definitely True
8. To stay safe from fentanyl you should only ever take pills that are prescribed to you by a licensed medical professional:
☐ Definitely Not True
☐ Not True
☐ I Don't Know
☐ True
☒ Definitely True
9. If someone else takes a pill and does not experience any negative symptoms, it's probably safe for you to take a pill from the same source:
☒ Definitely Not True
☐ Not True
☐ I Don't Know
☐ True
☐ Definitely True
10. Fentanyl is dangerous, but the rates of misuse and death are starting to decrease:
☒ Definitely Not True
☐ Not True
☐ I Don't Know
☐ True
☐ Definitely True